

John C. David

John C. David is the Chief Technology Officer at BryceTech, overseeing the Government program divisions in Space, Defense, and Health markets. Mr. David has served as a leader in bioscience and technology for military and government organizations for over 30 years. He bolsters BryceTech's capabilities by focusing on three key areas: technology trend assessment, mastering innovation, and strategic incorporation of technology into product delivery.

Prior to BryceTech, Mr. David was the Vice President for Health and Biosciences Market Development at Parsons Corporation; Director of Science and Technology at LMI Consulting; and Director of the Asymmetric Threat Mitigation Division at The Tauri Group. Mr. David served as a U.S. Naval Officer in both line and staff corps assignments and brings an expert-level understanding of U.S. military and medical R&D requirements. He holds a Master of Science degree in Microbiology from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and serves on the advisory board of Beyond Barriers Therapeutics.
